

THE BARRE DAILY TIMES

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1911.

Published every week-day afternoon.
Subscriptions: One year, $3.00; one month, 25 cents; single copy, 1 cent.

Entered at the post office at Barre as second-class matter.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the year 1910 was copies, the largest circulation of any daily paper in Vermont outside of Burlington.

Don't kick the groundhog yet. Give him time.

W. E. D. Stokes of New York is married again. What's in one's initials?

An old saying revised in Mexico: Old men for slaughter and young men for slaughtering them.

As a Sunday school exhorter, President Taft is quite a success, too.

At the present high rate of horse flesh, stealing horses in Washington county comes high also.

The Isham shell may blow Vermont into world-wide prominence, along with the Burlington inventor.

When royalty has a cold, the newspaper dispatches would make the world shiver also. But everybody knows that Emperor William of Germany is too strenuous a subject to be fussed by a mere cold for long; so the stories of his illness made people wonder only.

Naturally, England is averse to reciprocity between the United States and Canada, because England thereby feels its already slight hold on Canada slipping still more. The relation between the province and its mother government is very distant at the present time, more sentimental than anything else.

Although New Hampshire has two state normal schools, there is considerable sentiment in favor of abolishing one and making a single strong institution, the claim being made by the Franklin Journal-Transcript that the state does not need the two, but that "one good strong school" is enough for the needs. There's Gov. Mead's central normal school idea worked over to fit the needs of a sister state, the idea which was engendered after one of Vermont's three semi-private schools had been obliterated.

With the opening of its fifth fire department station and the purchase of a new automobile fire truck, Burlington may be called fully awake to the demands for property protection. The fire department of Vermont's leading city has been developed rapidly during the past few years, and the wisdom of the policy has been demonstrated time and time again. There are some extra hazardous risks in Burlington, particularly in the lumber district on the lake front, and the situation is such that prompt and efficient service from the fire department is required. Realization of that requirement is at the bottom of the present policy, doubtless.

According to Champ Clark, Missouri is a state made up of people from Virginia, Kentucky, North Carolina and Tennessee, together with a "sprinkling of the elite from every state in the union and from every civilized country in the world." Moreover, Mr. Clark admits that Missouri is as justly entitled to the sobriquet of "Mother of States and Statesmen" as Virginia is to be called "The Mother of Presidents." Representative Clark is a typical booster of the western make-up, in which modest claiming has no part. It is the g-g-g-rand and gee-lorious with them, or nothing at all. However, the people can overlook a trifle of exaltation in the Missouri, in view of his expected great step to fame, supplanting the cigar-chewing gentleman from Vermilion county.

MUNICIPAL FREEDOM FROM LITIGATION.

Brevity of city attorney reports for municipalities may mean a scarcity of litigation or the brevity may be used as a shield to cover a mass of unwelcome information. City Attorney Carleton of Montpelier has just turned in one of those very brief reports, and the shortness of the statement is due to the comparative freedom of that municipality from litigation, there being but four cases which the official considered worthy of specific reference.

That is a good record. But it is surpassed by the recent report of Barre's city attorney, the report being presented by the retiring official, J. Ward Carver. On account of the lack of cases to write about, the official had to stretch out his expressions of appreciation for hearty co-operation in order to make a page in the annual city report. From the report we learn that there is but a single case in which the city is a litigant. That is the suit which was brought by Joseph Long & Co., an action in general assumpsit, in which the plaintiff company seeks to recover for alleged extra work and materials furnished during the construction of the storage reservoir at Orange. That case is of relatively little importance, compared with the legal tangles which the municipality has gone through during its sixteen years' history. And not only is the same a small one, but, barring possible litigation with the electric railroad company regarding extension of its line, it is the only matter now in dispute, with the city as a disputant, the troublesome water cases having been settled during the last few months of Mr. Carver's occupancy of the office of city attorney.

Thus the new city attorney, E. L. Scott, came into office with almost a clear desk before him. It is a situation which the people of the municipality welcome after the necessary broils and legal hostilities of many years. Barre and Montpelier both have cause for congratulation in this respect.

Little Margie McLellan was operated upon at the sanatorium on Sunday for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, who have been in town for some time, have gone to Benson, where Mr. Allen is to have charge of a creamery.

Miss Eunice Slack was graduated from the Randolph sanatorium this week, she having served the prescribed time to qualify herself for a nurse.

Mrs. Ransom Slack left the sanatorium Sunday and is to remain for a few days at the home of R. H. Slack, before going to her home in Randolph Center.

Mrs. E. T. Sault accompanied her son, Z. L. Sault, who has been visiting her, to his home in Somerville, on Monday, for an indefinite stay.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Connor entertained over Sunday their daughter, Mrs. Head, their son, Luke Connor, from Montpelier seminary, and Mrs. Hawley from Clareville, Canada.

The annual ladies' night banquet of the Christian Brotherhood was held at the parish house on Monday evening. About 200 members and guests were present, who first were served to chicken pie dinner with its various accessories. During the service the music hall orchestra furnished very nice music. Dr. F. C. Angell officiated as toastmaster, and the following program was given: America, response by Dr. J. P. Gifford; "Absentmindedness," E. W. Tewksbury; "The Ladies," H. M. Gaylord; "The Gentlemen," Mrs. E. G. Ham; "Frauds," M. M. Wilson; "Bacteria," Dr. L. A. Russell; "Valentines," R. J. Mitchell; "Happiness," H. W. Lewis; song, "Auld Lang Syne," the last being a fitting close to a very enjoyable occasion.

Luther Sparhawk was assisted in celebrating his 80th birthday anniversary on Saturday by about 20 of his friends. During the evening, Principal E. G. Ham gave a very pleasant address on the advance in the country during the last 50 years, and he noted the progress made in all departments in the last few years. His remarks were instructive and interesting, and were followed by a few words of congratulation from Rev. Fraser Metzger, and the son, Rev. Willis Sparhawk. Photographs of Randolph were also exhibited, showing the growth and improvement in town in the last 50 years, in which Mr. Sparhawk has been a resident. The evening was pleasantly passed with music and refreshments in addition to the program given.

Anniversary night was celebrated at Randolph grange on Saturday night with an appropriate program, prepared for the occasion. Twenty-one years ago the grange was organized with 23 charter members and Alonzo Emery was its first master. The present membership is about 295, and several are included in each in-coming class. The program for the last meeting was as follows: Music by the male quartet and grange choir, followed by "History of the Grange," by Alonzo Emery; "What the Grange Has Done," was well told by George C. Flint; "Why Join the Grange," led by Harris Bass, Dr. L. A. Russell and others. A reading was also given by Mrs. Fred Smith, and a piano duet by Misses Ruby and Una Allen.
